QuakeCoRE 2022 RfP Summary

Applications Close: Noon, Friday 21st October 2022

What

- Project proposals are invited in five key areas:
    - A: Disciplinary Theme (DT) & Inter-Disciplinary Programme (IP) Research Projects
    - B: Proposal Development Grants
    - C: Workshop Grants
    - D: Co-ordination Mechanism Grants
    - E: Māori Capability Development Grants
- Applications for new three-year PhD Scholarships are being accepted through the scholarship round, details are available here.
- Applications for new one and two-year Masters Research Scholarships are being accepted through the scholarship round, details are available here.
- Project funding will be for up to two years - and will cover the period from 1 April 2023 to 31 March 2025

Who

- Applications under category A will be accepted from QuakeCoRE Associate Investigators only.
- Applications under the other categories (B – E) are open to a range of researchers and eligibility requirements are outlined in the RfP Guidelines (available here)

When

- Applications are due by Noon on Friday the 21 October, 2022.
- Project funding will cover the period from 1 April 2023 – 31 March 2025

How

- Read the QuakeCoRE 2022 RfP Guidelines (available here) to confirm eligibility and application requirements
- Application forms are available here: Note applications must be submitted via email to quakecore@canterbury.ac.nz

Additional Information

- QuakeCoRE RfP Guidelines are available here
- Contact: quakecore@canterbury.ac.nz with any specific questions